Prayer for the One Who Begins

DRAFT — pending clergy/educator review

Original text, not traditional liturgy. Wording lives in book/opening-prayer.txt.

Hineni — here I am.
I did not choose the road that brought me to this page,
but I choose to stand on it now.

I come not because I know, but because I want to know.
I come seeking or, light — not the whole of it,
only enough to read the next word.

There is no one among us who holds the whole truth.
We are all still learning the letters.
So I will not ask to be right.
I will ask to be honest,
to be patient with my own mistakes, and to make a little more right in the world than I found — tikkun, one letter at a time.

May these sounds, older than any of us,
become mine without ceasing to be ours.
May the voice I find in them be my own.
And when I read aloud with others,
may I feel what every learner before me felt:
not an outsider, but one more voice in the room.

Baruch ha-ba — blessed is the one who arrives.
Let us begin.

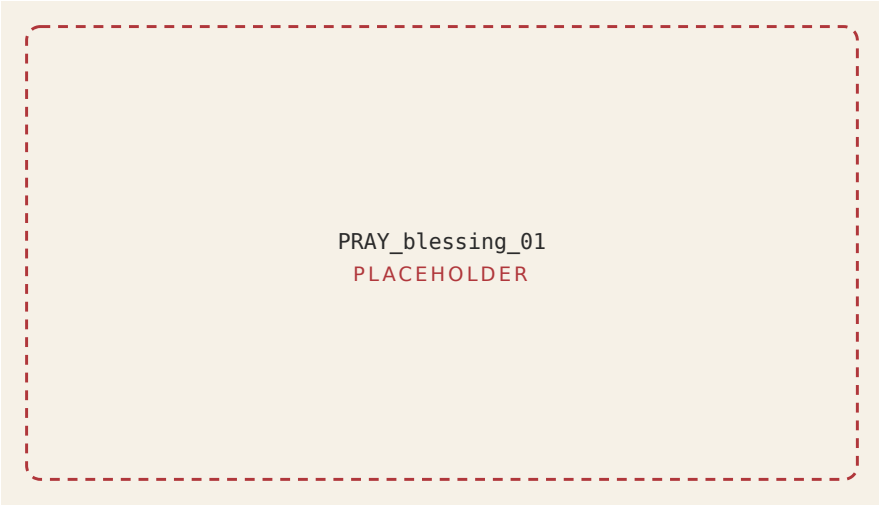

The Priestly Blessing

Numbers 6:24–26. Your first page of Hebrew: fifteen words, thirteen different letters.

יְבָרֶכְךָ יְהוָה וְיִשְׁמְרֶךָ׃

יָאֵר יְהוָה פָּנָיו אֵלֶיךָ וִיחֻנֶּךָּ׃

יִשָּׂא יְהוָה פָּנָיו אֵלֶיךָ וְיָשֵׂם לְךָ שָׁלוֹם׃

Source: data/corpus/registry.json (bless-priestly-1, bless-priestly-2, bless-priestly-3). Status: verified; not proofread by a Hebrew educator. The divine name is shown as written in the source; it is read aloud as “Adonai”.

How to use this book and the app

Each letter has one page. Look at the picture and find the letter hiding in it. Trace the strokes in the order shown, say the sound, and read the three words. Then scan the code, or type the link, to open the same letter in the companion web app, where you can trace on a screen and hear it. There are no recordings yet: the app says so at the top of the screen and uses your device's own Hebrew voice, if it has one. The app's Install page (in the More menu) shows how to put it on your home screen.

The path: the opening prayer and blessing → your first 10 minutes → the baby steps (lessons 1 to 10, the order the app teaches) → the alphabet and its 27 letter pages → the vowels → syllable practice → the prayers (every page has its own code) → survival Hebrew for travel and daily life. Read for the congregation first or for Israel first; both paths use the same letters.

Print and cursive. Every letter page shows the printed letter and the Israeli handwritten (ktav yad) form, each with numbered strokes where the data exists. Handwriting stroke data is marked as draft quality: it still needs a native writer's review.

Which pronunciation? Hebrew is read differently in Israel, in Sephardi tradition and in Ashkenazi tradition. The next page explains the differences. The app lets you choose (in setup, or any time in Settings under "Pronunciation style"); American synagogues often use the Sephardi values.

Companion app. The page for any letter is https://alef.example.org/#/letters/<letter> and any prayer is https://alef.example.org/#/read/<text> (prayer pages carry a "Preview: unreviewed" banner in the app). The host "alef.example.org" is a PLACEHOLDER: those links do not work until a real domain is chosen (one value, book/config.json).

How to use this book in a 10-week class

This page is for a teacher, a study group, or a learner who wants a calendar. The book is organised like a reference (all letters, then all vowels, then prayers), so the table below tells you where to look each week. It follows ALEF's draft 10-week adult reading track (60-minute weekly session, data/curriculum/class-track.json), which has not been reviewed by an educator; adapt it to your group.

Wk	Focus	New letters (book page)	Also in this book

A session in about an hour

10 minutes warm-up: flash last week's letters and vowels, finger moving right to left. 15 new letters: say the name, then the sound, then trace the strokes in the air. 15 decode: read the syllables and the three words on each letter page, first together, then one by one. 10 read aloud a short text from the prayer chapters. 5 one question about why the text matters. The companion codes on each page give learners the same letter to practise at home.

Using the book between sessions

Ask learners to read the letter pages for the coming week before class and to use the "Remember every letter" cards for the look-alike pairs. Every prayer page says whether its text has been proofread; if a text matters to your congregation, check it against your own prayer book, and follow your community's custom where the pronunciation differs.

The word list at the back (5,000 words) is for later: from week 8 on, pick a topic and let learners look up words they meet.

Your first 10 minutes

DRAFT — not reviewed by a Hebrew teacher; not tested with learners

Goal: Read 3 real Hebrew words aloud after 5 letters and 2 vowels, within a 10-minute budget. Hebrew reads from right to left: start at the right edge of every word.

Min	Step
1	Hebrew reads right to left. Start at the right edge. You will learn 5 letters and 2 vowel signs, then read 3 real words.
2	Five letters
1.5	Two vowel signs
1.5	Read your first word
1	Read a second word
1	Read a third word
1.5	Which one says shalom?
0.5	You read 3 Hebrew words. Self-reported. Nothing here has been tested with learners yet.

Five letters

שׁ

Shin (p. 42): sh

ל

Lamed (p. 33): l

ו

Vav (p. 27): v (or part of the vowel o/u)

מ ם

Mem (p. 34): m (second shape: at the end of a word)

ה

He (p. 26): h at the start, silent at the end of a word

Two vowel signs

מָ

ah (kamatz): Kamatz: the T-shaped sign under the letter.

לוֹ

oh (holam-male): Vav with a dot above it reads as the vowel oh; the vav is not a v here.

Three words

שָׁלוֹם	שָׁם	מָה
shah-LOHM	shahm	mah
peace; unpointed	there; unpointed	what; unpointed
שלום	שם	מה

Only one of the three words (shalom) is in the Priestly Blessing. The blessing's other words need letters (yod, bet, resh, kaf, final kaf, nun, and so on) and vowels (tzere, segol, shva) outside the 5 letters and 2 vowels taught here. Extending to the full verse is a later step.

From pointed to unpointed: a 20-step ladder

Read each word aloud. The vowel signs are removed stage by stage, as in everyday Israeli print. Target (unmeasured): 80% on the 20 unpointed words after the ladder. DRAFT, unreviewed. Glosses and points written by the module author; not checked by a Hebrew teacher. Later steps use letters and vowels beyond the first-10-minutes set. Not tested on learners.

Stage 1: Fully pointed
1	שָׁלוֹם	peace
2	שָׁם	there
3	מָה	what
4	לֹא	no, not
5	טוֹב	good
6	יוֹם	day
Stage 2: First letter pointed
7	אָב	father
8	כֹּל	all
9	גַּם	also
10	כֵּן	yes

11	אֵין	there is not
12	יֵשׁ	there is (with points: יֵשׁ)
Stage 3: Unpointed, with a hint
13	מים	water (with points: מַיִם)
14	בית	house (with points: בַּיִת)
15	ספר	book (with points: סֵפֶר)
16	תודה	thanks (with points: תּוֹדָה)
17	שנה	year (with points: שָׁנָה)
18	עוד	more, still (with points: עוֹד)
Stage 4: Unpointed, no hint
19	אבל	but (with points: אֲבָל)
20	אמא	mom (with points: אִמָּא)

The baby steps: lessons 1 to 10

DRAFT — not reviewed by a Hebrew teacher; not tested with learners

The app's first release (v0) teaches in baby steps: a one-time setup (it asks whether you can already read the letters; choosing a pronunciation style is optional and can be changed later in Settings), your first ten minutes on five tiny wins, then lessons 1 to 10 in order, reviewing as you go. The first release is small on purpose: pages outside it stay in the app, but sit under a collapsed "Preview (unreviewed, work in progress)" group in the More menu. This chapter is that path on paper, in the same order. Letters and signs are not shown in alphabet order here; the reference chapters later in the book are. Each lesson gives its new letters and signs, a few words, and a note on where the Israeli, Sephardi and Ashkenazi ways of reading part. Pick one tradition now and stay with it until the path feels easy.

Lesson 1 is five small steps

#	Step	Time
1	Your first letter: Shin	2 min
2	Your second letter: Bet	2 min
3	Your first vowel sign: the small T בְ	2 min
4	Your first syllable שְׁ	2 min
5	Your first word שְׁבָ	2 min

Minutes are a design budget, not a measurement.

Lesson 1 (r01): Shin and Bet: your first two letters 20 min · white belt

- Name and sound Shin (sh) and Bet (b with the dot inside, v without)
- Read kamatz and patach with them: both are 'ah' (Ashkenazi reads kamatz as 'aw')

Word	Meaning	Israeli	Sephardi	Ashkenazi
שַׁבָּת	Sabbath	shabat	shabat	shabos
בַּת	daughter	bat	bat	bas

Where traditions differ here.

- ת Tav: Israeli t; Sephardi t; Ashkenazi s without dagesh (Shabbos), t with dagesh
- בּ Dagesh: Israeli no sound of its own; makes b, k, p instead of v, kh, f; Sephardi same; Ashkenazi same; also makes tav t instead of s (not source-verified)

Lesson 3 (r03): Lamed, final Mem and Vav: Shalom 25 min · white belt

- Read שָׁלוֹם
- Vav with a dot above = 'oh'

Lesson 5 (r05): Meet the Priestly Blessing (listen and spot) 15 min · white belt

- Hear the whole Priestly Blessing (Numbers 6:24-26)

- Understand this is the page-1 text you will fully decode by lesson 27

No new letters or signs: this lesson is practice.

Word	Meaning	Israeli	Sephardi	Ashkenazi
שָׁלוֹם	peace	shalom	shalom	sholom

Listen and spot the letters you know (Numbers 6:24–26; text status in the prayer chapter):

יִשָּׂא יְהוָה פָּנָיו אֵלֶיךָ וְיָשֵׂם לְךָ שָׁלוֹם׃

Where traditions differ here.

No difference between the three traditions in the signs this lesson introduces.

Lesson 6 (r06): Yod and the 'ee' vowel 20 min · white belt

- Read chirik as 'ee' (the words here have a yod after it; chirik without a yod sounds the same)

New: י Yod (p. 31) בִ Chirik

Word	Meaning	Israeli	Sephardi	Ashkenazi
בִּי	in me	bi	bi	bi
לִי	to me	li	li	li

These words read alike in all three traditions in the siddur spelling used here.

Where traditions differ here.

- בִ Chirik: Israeli i as in machine (short); Sephardi i as in machine; Ashkenazi i as in machine (not source-verified)

Lesson 7 (r07): Alef and He 25 min · white belt

- Know Alef is silent carrier of its vowel
- Know final-He after kamatz is silent

New: א Alef (p. 22) ה He (p. 26)

Lesson 9 (r09): Resh and Mem 25 min · white belt

- בְּ Shva: Israeli e as in begin, or silent; Sephardi e as in bed when vocal; silent otherwise; Ashkenazi often dropped (zman); short uh/e when read strictly in prayer (not source-verified)

Pronunciation values come from data/pronunciation/consonants.json and niqqud.json; transliteration is generated by the project's siddur-style rules (the Israeli and Sephardi columns come out identical because the spelling does not show their pharyngeal and shva differences). Several values are marked in the data as not yet verified by a native speaker. Lessons r11 onward are covered by the reference chapters of this book; the app's first release centres on lessons 1 to 10.

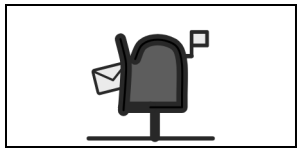

Letters you will never forget

DRAFT: pictures, hooks and example words not reviewed by a Hebrew teacher; not tested with learners.

One cell per letter: the letter in its frame, the picture it turns into, a hook (a sound you already know) and a Hebrew word that uses the letter. Cover the hook and the word, look only at the picture, and say the letter back; then check. The five final forms have a double border. In black and white the cells read by frame and shape, not colour. Where Israeli (I), Sephardi (S) and Ashkenazi (A) readings differ, the cell says so in one line. A one-page poster and cut-out cards of the same cells are in the printable workbooks (alef-memory-chain-a4.pdf, alef-flashcards-letters-a4.pdf; US Letter versions too).

Pronunciation traditions

The same letters, three living ways of reading them aloud. Israeli is the everyday Modern Hebrew of Israel and the default of the Israel track. Sephardi is the liturgical tradition of Spanish-Portuguese and Mizrahi communities. Ashkenazi is the older Central and Eastern European liturgical tradition. The app's congregation setting picks one for the prayers. Data: data/pronunciation/*.json.

Where they part

Bet is b with dagesh and v without.

Kaf is k with dagesh and kh (like loch) without.

Pe is p with dagesh and f without.

The dot decides: right dot = sh, left dot = s.

Dagesh kal hardens begadkefat letters (only bet, kaf, pe change sound in Israeli Hebrew). Dagesh chazak (doubling) is not pronounced in Modern Hebrew.

In General Israeli chet and khaf are one sound [χ]; older Mizrahi speakers keep the pharyngeal chet.

In General Israeli ayin is merged with alef. Pharyngeal ayin survives in Sephardi/Mizrahi tradition; Ashkenazi is silent.

Nearly all Israeli Jews pronounce resh as a uvular fricative; the English r is the typical American carry-over.

Ashkenazi tav without dagesh is s (Shabbos); Sephardi and Israeli tav is always t.

Switching from Israeli/Sephardi to Ashkenazi

Kamatz: a becomes o: Where Israeli/Sephardi reads kamatz gadol as a, Ashkenazi reads it as o (aw). Patach stays a. בָּרוּךְ Barukh / Bawrukh (blessed); שָׁלוֹם shalom / sholom (peace)

Cholam: o stays o, or becomes oy: Choose one value for your community. Most American Ashkenazi readers use o; oy is the Polish/Galician/Chasidic value. אֲדֹנָי Adonai / Adonoy (my Lord (the divine name is read this way))

Tzere: e becomes ei: Ashkenazi tzere is a diphthong. Segol stays e. בֵּית beit / beis (house of); אֱלֹהֵינוּ Eloheinu (our God)

Tav without dagesh: t becomes s: Only tav WITHOUT a dagesh changes. A tav with dagesh is t in every tradition. שַׁבָּת Shabbat / Shabbos (Sabbath); יִתְגַּדַּל Yitgadal / Yisgadal (may it be magnified (Kaddish))

Stress: last syllable becomes second-to-last: Ashkenazi stress is historically penultimate (SHAB-bos, KID-dush). The sources do not say how consistently American prayer reading follows this; that part is inference. שַׁבָּת shabBAT / SHABbos (Sabbath)

Same word, two traditions

Hebrew	Meaning	Israeli	Ashkenazi	What switches
שַׁבָּת	Sabbath	Shabbat	Shabbos	tav, kamatz, stress
בְּרִית	covenant (brit milah)	brit	bris	tav, tzere
אֲדֹנָי	the divine name as read aloud	Adonai	Adonoy	kamatz, cholam
יִתְגַּדַּל	Kaddish, first word	Yitgadal	Yisgadal	tav
בַּת	daughter (bat mitzvah)	bat	bas	tav
אֱמֶת	truth	emet	emes	tav
חָתָן	groom	chatan	chosson	kamatz, tav, stress
בָּרוּךְ	blessed	Barukh	Bawrukh	kamatz
בֵּית	house of	beit	beis	tzere, tav
שָׁלוֹם	peace / hello	shalom	sholom	kamatz, stress

Sounding less like an outsider (Israeli Hebrew)

Resh: back of the throat, not the English r. Common slip: English [ɹ] ("rail") instead of the Israeli uvular [ʁ].
Try: Say kar, rishon, horim, rekhev slowly, keeping the tongue tip down behind the lower teeth.

Five pure, short vowels: no glides. Common slip: Diphthongised English vowels (sha-LOHM with an "oh-oo" glide).
Try: Say lo, bo, lu, li, la with no trailing w or y sound; clip them.

Stress usually falls on the last syllable (milra). Common slip: English-habit stress on the first or second syllable.
Try: Clap the syllables and land the clap on the last one.

Silent shva makes consonant clusters. Common slip: Inserting a short vowel in g-dola, k-tana, z-man.
Try: Say zman, then gdola, holding the two consonants together with no vowel between them.

Do not carry shul pharyngeals into Israeli speech. Common slip: Pharyngeal chet and ayin (the strict synagogue sound).
Try: Say chet as a throat-clearing kh, and read ayin as if it were alef.

Less puff on p, t, k. Common slip: Strongly aspirated English [p^h t^h k^h].
Try: Hold a hand in front of your mouth and say pita, toda, kafe with as little breath as you can.

Statuses and source links for each claim are in the data files; the drills are marked there as unreviewed by a native speaker.

Sounds of three traditions

DRAFT — rule-generated; no native speaker has checked it

The same page of Hebrew is read aloud in three main ways. Israeli is the speech of Israel today. Sephardi is the liturgical reading of Spanish-Portuguese and Mizrahi communities. Ashkenazi is the older Central and Eastern European liturgical reading. They share the letters and the vowel signs; they differ in a handful of sounds and in where the stress falls. This chapter summarises the rules the course uses to show all three side by side (full text: docs/pronunciation/VARIANTS.md). every rendering in data/pronunciation/variants/ is produced by rule from the niqqud text. No recording exists and no native speaker or teacher has checked a single record.

The rules at a glance

Sign	Israeli	Sephardi	Ashkenazi	Note
kamatz (gadol)	a	a	ɔ	Wikipedia Ashkenazi Hebrew: "kamatz gadol … is generally pronounced [ɔ]"
kamatz katan	o	ɔ	ɔ	variant. Detected only from U+05C7, the four-word list, and a kamatz immediately before a chataf-kamatz…
patach, chataf-patach	a	a	a tzere	e	e	ej	Ashkenazi Hebrew: "[ej] in the majority of Ashkenazic traditions"
segol, chataf-segol	e	e	e
chirik	i	i	i
cholam (chaser and malei)	o	o	oj	Ashkenazi Hebrew: Galician/Polish [oi], Lithuanian [ei], southern German [o], northern German [au]
kubutz, shuruk	u	u	u
chataf-kamatz	o	ɔ	ɔ
shva na	e	e	ə	(Ashkenazi "[e]/[ə] when read strictly")
shva nach	∅	∅	∅	shva.js rules. 176 records depend on the L3 "after a long unaccented vowel" heuristic (flag shva-heuristic-L3)
dagesh in bet / kaf / pe	b k p vs v χ f	b k p vs v x f	b k p vs v x f	Gemination (dagesh chazak) is not written in IPA ("absent in spoken Israeli Hebrew"
tav without dagesh	t	t	s	Ashkenazi Hebrew: "ungeminated ṯāw is pronounced [s]"
chet	χ	ħ	x	(Israeli merged with khaf
khaf	χ	x	x
ayin	∅	ʕ	∅	Ashkenazi Hebrew: "aleph and ayin are completely silent" alef	∅	ʔ (when it carries a vowel)	∅	(Israeli "[ʔ] or ∅": written ∅
resh	ʁ	r	r	Sephardi Hebrew: "invariably … alveolar trill"

Sign	Israeli	Sephardi	Ashkenazi	Note
he	h; silent when it is a final vowel letter; mappiq = h	same	same	hebrew.js / syllabify.js
vav	v; vowel letter for cholam/shuruk; conjunction ו = u	same	same	syllabify.js. A vav-cholam or shuruk after a silent alef (מָאוֹד ,בָּאוּר) is repaired to a vowel letter…
shin without a dot	ʃ	ʃ	ʃ	same as transliterate.js
furtive patach (רוּחַ)	vowel before the consonant, never stressed	same	same	syllabify.js flag + own stress rule

Values are IPA symbols, broadly: ʒ is the French or Israeli r, χ the ch of Bach, ħ a throaty h, ʕ a throaty ayin, ʔ a glottal stop, ɔ the vowel of “saw”, ə a very short e; ∅ means silent.

Stress

- Israeli and Sephardi. final syllable (milra) by default (Sephardi Hebrew: "stress tends to fall on the last syllable wherever that is the case in Biblical Hebrew")
- Ashkenazi. prayerwords.json Ashkenazi stress where listed (10 words)
- Ashkenazi final-vowel reduction. an unstressed final open syllable written kamatz + he (or kamatz + silent alef) is read [ə] and written "eh": תּוֹרָה toyreh, מִצְוָה mitzveh, אַתָּה atteh

Three words, three readings

Hebrew	Meaning	Israeli	Sephardi	Ashkenazi
שַׁבָּת	Shabbat, Sabbath	shabat ʃa.ˈbat	shabat ʃa.ˈbat	shabos ˈʃa.bɔs
תּוֹרָה	instruction, teaching	torah to.ˈʁa	torah to.ˈra	toyreh ˈtoj.rə
בְּרֵאשִׁית	in the beginning	bereshit be.ʁe.ˈʃit	bereshit be.re.ˈʃit	bereishis bə.ˈrej.ʃis

What is not done yet

- No native-speaker, cantor or teacher review of any value
- Kamatz katan outside the four-word list and the chataf rule is misread as [a] (Israeli/Sephardi)
- Segolate and other mil'el nouns without existing stress data are read milra
- Ashkenazi sub-dialects (Lithuanian [ej] cholam, German [au], [u] kamatz, uvular resh) and Sephardi sub-dialects (θ tav, ŋ ayin, Spanish-Portuguese β)…
- Colloquial Israeli (shva dropping, he dropping, intonation) is not generated
- Shva rules T1-T5 of shva.js remain TODO there, so here too
- Gemination is not transcribed
- The app does not load these files yet

Remember every letter

One card per letter: a shape to see, a sound to say, a silly story that holds both, the look-alike to watch out for, and a word to anchor it. The hook is the memory aid, not the history: the letter-name meanings are real Hebrew words, but the claim that each letter was originally drawn as that object is a popular teaching story. Draft: these hooks and the pointed anchor words have not been checked by a Hebrew teacher. The picture on each card is a labelled placeholder until the image run is done; the faint outlined letter is typeset over it as vector. The same 27 cards are on the cut-out flashcard sheets (alef-mnemonic-flashcards-*.pdf).

The vowels and marks

Hebrew vowels are dots and dashes around the letter, shown here on a bet (or a vav for the two vav-vowels). Modern Israeli Hebrew has five vowel sounds, so several signs share one sound; the traditions differ more. From data/pronunciation/niqqud.json.

Kamatz (kamatz gadol) קָמָץ

below (T-shaped mark under the letter)

Example: אָב father

Israeli [a] a as in father (short, no glide)
Sephardi [a(ː)] a as in father
Ashkenazi [ɔ] aw as in saw (Barukh -> Bawrukh)

Variants: בָה kamatz + silent he (or alef); same sound as kamatz · בׇ Has its own Unicode glyph U+05C7 but most print uses the ordinary kamatz.

In Ashkenazi the alternative values are [u] in open syllables (southern dialects) and [ʌ] (Lithuanian). (English approximation not source-verified)

Patach פַּתַח

below (horizontal line)

Example: בַּיִת house (bayit)

Israeli [a] a as in father
Sephardi [a] a as in father
Ashkenazi [a] a as in father

A patach under a final ע ,ח or ה-with-mappiq is a furtive patach and is read BEFORE the letter (נַח = [no.ax]). (English approximation not source-verified)

Tzere צֵירֵי

below (two horizontal dots)

Example: בֵּן son (ben)

Israeli [ɐ] e as in bed (a few words and speakers say ei as in they)
Sephardi [e(ː)] e as in bed
Ashkenazi [ej] ei as in they (Polish usage is often like eye)

Variants: בֵי tzere + yod; commonly romanised ei

Pealim: Israeli tzere may be [ei] in some cases, not for all speakers. Ashkenazi [aj] is the Polish variant. (English approximation not source-verified)

Segol סֶגוֹל

below (three dots in a triangle)

Example: סֵפֶר book (sefer)

Israeli [ɐ] e as in bed
Sephardi [e] e as in bed
Ashkenazi [e] e as as in bed (stressed syllables in Polish/Ukrainian usage: ei)

Israeli tzere and segol sound the same; the sign distinction survives only in the spelling. (English approximation not source-verified)

Chirik חִירִיק

below (single dot)

Example: אִמָּא mother (ima)

Israeli [i] i as in machine (short)
Sephardi [i] i as in machine
Ashkenazi [i] i as in machine

Variants: בִי chirik + yod; same sound

Israeli writing usually adds a yod (chirik malei) to disambiguate; same sound. (English approximation not source-verified)

Cholam חוֹלָם

above-left of the letter (chaser) or over a vav (malei)

Example: שָׁלוֹם peace (shalom)

Israeli [ɒ] o as in for (no glide)
Sephardi [o(ː)] o as in home
Ashkenazi [o] o as in home (southern German / many American Ashkenazim); oy as in oy vey (Polish/Galician, Chasidic); ow (northern German)

Variants: בֹ cholam without vav: the dot sits above-left of the letter · בוֹ cholam on a vav (vav is a vowel letter here); same sound

Ashkenazi values by sub-dialect: [oj] Polish/Galician, [au] N. German, [ej] Lithuanian, [øi] Hungarian, [o] S. German. (English approximation not source-verified)

Kubutz קֻבּוּץ

below (three diagonal dots)

Example: סֻכָּה sukkah (booth)

Israeli [u] oo as in boot (short)
Sephardi [u] oo as in boot
Ashkenazi [u] oo as in boot; occasionally as in put

Hungarian/Oberlander Ashkenazi [y]; occasional [ʊ]. Same sound as shuruk. (English approximation not source-verified)

Shuruk שׁוּרוּק

a dot inside a vav (the vav is a vowel letter)

Example: סוּס horse (sus)

Israeli [u] oo as in boot
Sephardi [u] oo as in boot
Ashkenazi [u] oo as in boot

The shared id is shuruk; the shape is a vav with a dagesh dot (U+05D5 U+05BC) after a consonant. (English approximation not source-verified)

Shva שְׁוָא

below (two vertical dots)

Example: שְׁמַע hear (Shema)

Israeli [ę] or ∅ (no vowel) e as in begin, or silent
Sephardi [ɛ]~[ę] when vocal, ∅ when silent e as in bed when vocal; silent otherwise
Ashkenazi ∅ colloquially (zman); [e]/[ə] when read strictly in liturgy often dropped (zman); short uh/e when read strictly in prayer

js. Modern Israelis often drop or insert the [e] on phonological grounds, not by the historical rules; no corpus measurement was found. (English approximation not source-verified)

Chataf patach חֲטַף פַּתַח

below (shva + patach)

Example: חֲבֵרָה company / female friend (chavera)

Israeli [a] very short a as in father
Sephardi [a] very short a
Ashkenazi [a] very short a

Reduced vowels appear mostly under guttural letters. (English approximation not source-verified)

Chataf segol חֲטַף סֶגוֹל

below (shva + segol)

Example: אֱמֶת truth (emet)

Israeli [ę] very short e as in bed
Sephardi [e] very short e
Ashkenazi [e] very short e

Short reduced e. (English approximation not source-verified)

Chataf kamatz חֲטַף קָמָץ

below (shva + kamatz)

Example: צָהֳרַיִם noon (tsohorayim)

Israeli [o̜] very short o as in for Sephardi [ɔ] very short o
Ashkenazi [ɔ] very short aw/o

Not to be confused with kamatz katan. (English approximation not source-verified)

Dagesh דָּגֵשׁ

inside the letter (a dot)

Example: שַׁבָּת Shabbat

Israeli hardens bet/kaf/pe to [b][k][p]; gemination absent no sound of its own; makes b, k, p instead of v, kh, f
Sephardi hardens bet/kaf/pe to [b][k][p]; (gemination not covered by the sources fetched) same
Ashkenazi hardens bet/kaf/pe to [b][k][p]; (gemination not covered by the sources fetched) same; also makes tav t instead of s

Variants: בּ hardens begadkefat letters (bet, gimel, dalet, kaf, pe, tav); only bet/kaf/pe change sound in Israeli Hebrew · שּׁ doubling; not heard in Israeli Hebrew · הּ dagesh in a final he: the he is a real [h]

Two things share one sign: dagesh kal (begadkefat hardening) and dagesh chazak (doubling). (English approximation not source-verified)

Shin dot נקודת שין

above the right branch of the letter

Example: שָׁלוֹם peace (shalom)

Israeli [ʃ] sh as in shoe
Sephardi [ʃ] sh as in shoe
Ashkenazi [ʃ] sh as in shoe

The dot is written over the right (first) branch. (English approximation not source-verified)

Sin dot נקודת שין שמאלית

above the left (third) branch of the letter

Example: יִשְׂרָאֵל Israel (Yisrael)

Israeli [s] s as in sun
Sephardi [s] s as in sun
Ashkenazi [s] s as in sun

Lithuanian Ashkenazi historically merged shin and sin as [s] (historical, not current). (English approximation not source-verified)

Prayers and verses: Shema, Blessing and daily words

70 texts from data/corpus/registry.json in 5 chapters (Shema, Blessing and daily words; The Torah service; The Amidah, Kedushah and closing prayers; Shabbat, Psalms and the table; Hanukkah), each text with its own code. Every text matches its cited source by machine comparison; none has been proofread by a Hebrew educator, and none was typed from memory. You feed and sustain all; you rule over all; you rule over kings, and the kingdom is yours. I am a servant of the Holy One, blessed be he, before whom and before whose glorious Torah I bow at every time. Not in any person do I trust, and not on any angel do I rely, but on the God of heaven, who is the God of truth, whose Torah is truth and whose prophets are truth, and who abounds in deeds of goodness and truth. In him I trust, and to his holy and glorious name I utter praises. Blessed are you, LORD, the God who is faithful in all his words. Have mercy on Zion, for it is the home of our life, and save the one with a grieving soul quickly in our days. Blessed are you, LORD, who gladdens Zion through her children. Gladden us, LORD our God, with Elijah the prophet your servant and with the kingdom of the house of David your anointed; may he come quickly and make our heart rejoice. On his throne let no stranger sit, and let others not inherit his glory any more, for by your holy name you swore to him that his light would never go out. Blessed are you, LORD, shield of David. For the Torah, and for the service, and for the prophets, and for this Shabbat day which you gave us, LORD our God, for holiness and rest, for honour and glory. For all this, LORD our God, we thank you and bless you. May your name be blessed by every living being, always, for ever. Blessed are you, LORD, who makes the Shabbat holy.

Lord of the world, who reigned before any form was created. At the time when all was made by his will, then "King" was his name proclaimed. And after all things have ended, he alone, the awesome one, will reign. And he was, and he is, and he will be, in glory. And he is one, and there is no second, to compare to him or to join with him. Without beginning, without end; to him belong the power and the dominion. And he is my God, and my living redeemer, and the rock of my portion in time of distress. And he is my banner and my refuge, the portion of my cup on the day I call. Into his hand I commit my spirit, when I sleep and when I wake. And with my spirit, my body too: the LORD is with me and I will not fear.

May the living God be magnified and praised; he exists, and his existence is not bound by time. He is one, and there is no unity like his unity; hidden, and without end to his oneness. He has no bodily form and is not a body; his holiness cannot be compared. He preceded everything that was created; first, and with no beginning to his beginning. Behold, he is master of the world to every creature; he shows his greatness and his sovereignty. The abundance of his prophecy he gave to the people he treasured and who are his glory. No one has arisen in Israel like Moses, a prophet who beheld his likeness. A Torah of truth God gave to his people through his prophet, trusted in his house. God will not alter or exchange his law, for ever, for any other. He watches and knows our secrets; he sees the end of a matter at its beginning. He repays a person with kindness according to his deeds; he gives the wicked evil according to his wickedness. At the end of days he will send our anointed one, to redeem those who await the end of his salvation. God will revive the dead in his great kindness; blessed for ever is his praised name.

A Song of Ascents. When the LORD brought back those that returned to Zion, We were like unto them that dream. Then was our mouth filled with laughter, and our tongue with singing; then said they among the nations: 'The LORD hath done great things with these.' The LORD hath done great things with us; we are rejoiced. Turn our captivity, O LORD, as the streams in the dry land. They that sow in tears Shall reap in joy. Though he goeth on his way weeping that beareth the measure of seed, He shall come home with joy, bearing his sheaves.

Three traditions side by side (rule-generated from the pointing, not checked by a native speaker). Only the opening words of Mi Shebeirach are in the corpus (g-mi-sheberach-full); 'refuah shleimah' is not in any source file and is not shown. הֲשִׁיבֵנוּ	bring us back	hashivenu	hashivenu	hashiveinu

Three traditions side by side (rule-generated from the pointing, not checked by a native speaker). The scroll's weekly reading (g-torah-reading-text), the haftarah text (g-haftarah-text), the Torah-service prayers for the community (g-community-prayers), the composite Ein Kamocha and the full Mi Shebeirach (g-mi-sheberach-full) are corpus gaps. 'Haftarah' as a single pointed word is not in any source file, so it is not shown as a lesson word; it appears only through the registry id haftarah-before. Practice on the facing page; answers in the answer key at the back.

Three traditions side by side (rule-generated from the pointing, not checked by a native speaker). The Shabbat Amidah's middle blessings and Modim are gaps (g-shabbat-amidah-middle, g-modim), as is the Musaf Amidah (g-musaf-amidah). V'shamru is the verse added on Shabbat morning. Practice on the facing page; answers in the answer key at the back.

רַחֲמִים	mercy	rachamim	rachamim	rachamim

Three traditions side by side (rule-generated from the pointing, not checked by a native speaker). Most Yom Kippur liturgy is a corpus gap: g-high-holidays is out of scope, and Kol Nidre, Avinu Malkenu, the confession (Vidui), Unetaneh Tokef and Ne'ilah have no entry. This lesson teaches only vocabulary from words.json and the Shema lines (the quiet Baruch shem line is said aloud on Yom Kippur). Practice on the facing page; answers in the answer key at the back.

I-28 Practice: Yom Kippur: the few lines the corpus holds and the words around them

1. FADE Say the line from memory: “Blessed is the name of his glorious kingdom for ever and ever.”

מִצְרַיִם	Egypt	mitzrayim	mitzrayim	mitzrayim
קִדּוּשׁ	Kiddush	kidush	kidush	kidush

Three traditions side by side (rule-generated from the pointing, not checked by a native speaker). The Haggadah (Mah Nishtanah, the four sons, Dayenu, Hallel, the Four Questions) is not in any source file; g-hallel, g-festival-kiddush and the matzo blessings are gaps, and the festival Kiddush text is replaced here by the Shabbat Kiddush lines in the registry. The holiday Kiddush is a gap (g-festival-kiddush); do not treat I-29 as a seder guide. Practice on the facing page; answers in the answer key at the back.

I-29 Practice: Pesach: the seder blessings the corpus holds

1. FADE Say the line from memory: “Blessed are you, LORD our God, king of the world, who creates the fruit of the vine.”

Three traditions side by side (rule-generated from the pointing, not checked by a native speaker). Lulav and etrog, the Hallel and Hoshanot, Hakafot, Simchat Torah and Shemini Atzeret texts are not in any source file (g-hallel, g-festival-kiddush, g-high-holidays). שֶׁהֶחֱיָנוּ	who has kept us alive	shehecheyainu	shehecheyainu	shehecheyoynu

Three traditions side by side (rule-generated from the pointing, not checked by a native speaker). Tefillat HaDerekh (the traveller's prayer) is not in any source file and is not a registry entry; list it as a gap (g-tefilat-haderech, proposed). The phrase 'nesiah tovah' is composed from two vocabulary tokens and is not an attested phrasebook line; a native speaker should check it. Hagomel in the registry is the original text; some communities change the response. Practice on the facing page; answers in the answer key at the back.

Three traditions side by side (rule-generated from the pointing, not checked by a native speaker). The short Shabbat-day Kiddush text beginning 'Al ken berach' is the last line of Zachor in the registry. Practice on the facing page; answers in the answer key at the back.

You will draw water with joy from the springs of salvation. Salvation belongs to the LORD; your blessing is upon your people, Selah. The LORD of hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our stronghold, Selah. LORD of hosts, happy is the one who trusts in you. LORD, save; may the King answer us on the day we call. The Jews had light and gladness, joy and honour; so may it be for us. I will lift the cup of salvation and call on the name of the LORD.

It is our duty to praise the Master of all, to ascribe greatness to the Creator of the beginning: that he has not made us like the nations of the lands and has not placed us like the families of the earth, that he has not set our portion like theirs nor our lot like all their multitude. For they bow to vanity and emptiness and pray to a god who does not save; but we bow before the King of kings of kings, the Holy One, blessed be he, who stretches out the heavens and founds the earth, whose seat of glory is in the heavens above and the presence of his might in the loftiest heights. He is our God; there is no other. Truly he is our king; there is nothing besides him. As it is written in the Torah: "You shall know this day and take it to heart that the LORD is God, in the heavens above and on the earth beneath; there is no other."

In him I trust, and to his holy and glorious name I utter praises.
